PRESIDING OFFICER KOPEL: Let me let you all know that we have to wait a minute or two. Please put your phones on mute, if you haven't already.

(Whereupon, a brief recess.)

PRESIDING OFFICER KOPEL: Ladies and gentlemen, it is my great pleasure to introduce the county executive, County Executive Bruce Blakeman.

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: Did they have to stop the music, it's definitely going to be more fun than my speech (laughter).

First of all, I want to thank each and every one of you for coming out here tonight for our State of the County speech. This is my third one, and I think we've got a lot of great things to talk about.

First of all, as I as I did in my inauguration, I want to first, thank God, as we say in my religion, HaShem, for giving me the strength to be county executive. I pray that God continues to give me the wisdom, courage, and great county to the best of my ability.

With that, I would ask you all to please rise at this point for a moment of silence as we remember, and we pray for some of the people that we lost this year.

(Whereupon, all rise.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: As you all know, we had a very horrific bus accident of our Farmingdale High School band up in Orange County, and we lost two great teachers, Beatrice Ferrari and Gina Rose Pelletiere. We also had a horrible drunk driving incident that took two of our young athletes, two young tennis players from Roslyn, Drew Hassenbein and Ethan Falkowitz.

And we also want to remember our veterans, our military that lost their lives. We want to remember all of our law enforcement personnel throughout the country who gave their lives. We want to

In addition, we also mourn the innocent victims of the HAMAS attack on Israel, the recent loss of our military personnel in Syria, and the recent loss of police and EMT in the state of Minnesota. So if we could have a moment of silence, please.

(Whereupon, a moment of silence is observed by all.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: Thank you very much. Please be seated.

(Whereupon, all seated.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: First of all, I want to thank our presiding officer, Howard Kopel, and I want to officially congratulate him on becoming presiding officer. Let's have a hand for Howard.

(Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: And congratulations to our new Minority Leader, Delia DeRiggi-Whitton. Congratulations to you.

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: And to all the members of the Legislature, both old and new, thank you for giving me this opportunity in these beautiful chambers here to address you all today.

I am blessed to have great, great colleagues in government that join with me: Our terrific Comptroller, Elaine Phillips. Thank you, Elaine; our Clerk, who does an amazing job and has done for decades now, Maureen O'Connell; and our District Attorney, Anne Donnelly, our chief law enforcement officer, who does such a great job each and every day for us to keep us safe here in Nassau County. And I want to especially thank and congratulate her on a re-election, our supervisor from North Hempstead Jen DeSena. Thank you so much. And Joe Saladino, I believe, is en route and will be here shortly from the great Town of Oyster Bay. So thank you to each and every one of you.

And thank you to all in the audience, many of whom are part of our administration. Thank you for your hard work. Specifically, I want to thank all of our union representatives and leaders that are here today. We really appreciate that you took the time off to be with us so we could talk about important issues.

And while I'm at it, I want to thank our great county employees. Our employees are doing an amazing job, whether it's a blizzard or hurricane, whether it's our police, our firefighters who work so tirelessly to train volunteers here in the County, to our EMTs. I want to thank our doctors and nurses, our corrections officers, our deputy sheriffs. Everybody that works to make this a better county, I want to thank you all for your hard work and we couldn't do it without you. It's the men and women who work for our county each and every day that make all of us look good. So thank you so much.

I'm also proud to report that the state of our county is strong and our future is bright.

(Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: This year is the 125th anniversary of Nassau County and we have so much to celebrate. We have a rich history dating back to 1899, when we first broke away from the City of New York. I look forward to holding many historical and celebratory events throughout the year to mark this historic occasion, and to stimulate our small businesses and our economy with all types of events and honor our past while we continue to look to make our future better.

Over the past year, my administration has tackled issues head on that have been swept under the rug for far too long by previous administrations. By making the tough decisions, we were able to make the County safer and more affordable for our residents.

I have budgeted for 75 additional officers over and above the headcount of the previous administration. In Nassau County, we back the blue and we fund our police.

(Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: Thank you. Thank you. Let's hear it for our cops.

(Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: Joe, you just missed it, I said nice things about you.

And because of the hard work of our men and women in law enforcement, we have reduced major crime by over 6% from last year. That's thanks to Commissioner Ryder and our intelligence-led and community-based policing strategies, and the financial investments that we have made here in Nassau County for law enforcement. And I want to congratulate my partners in the Legislature for joining me in that effort. Thank you.

(Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN:

Residential burglaries are down over 17%, Grand larceny is down 7%, and stolen vehicles are down from last year, almost 8%. But we have more work to do. I have initiated Operation Overwatch, a roving patrol unit of 20 cars, which we instituted under my administration, to serve both as a deterrent and to act as the cavalry should an incident occur.

We also are tackling the migrant crisis and cashless bail, which continue to make our residents less safe. Nassau County is not a sanctuary county.

(Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: There is no migrant program in Nassau County. Unfortunately, Nassau County has become a border county because of the misguided policies of the State and the City of New York, who are a sanctuary state and a sanctuary city. We don't want that here in Nassau County -- the homelessness and the crime.

While our school districts are losing funding, the governor's budget for this year earmarks $2.4 billion of your tax money for housing and legal aid and transportation and food for migrants entering our nation illegally. That's bizarre and it needs to stop.

Tragically, fentanyl is pouring in through our southern border and making its way to this region. Unvetted migrants have engaged in crimes depleting our local resources.

I recently went to Washington and testified in front of the Congressional Committee on Homeland Security to urge Congress and President Biden to secure our southern border, to make sure that we're safe throughout the nation and here in Nassau County.

(Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: At home, our Police and Sheriff's Department are working closely with our federal partners, including ICE and Customs and Border Patrol, to make sure that we work together to manage and fight back against this foreign invasion.

(Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: Now, when a crime is committed, and let's say it's committed by a migrant who has no ties to the United States, if they commit a burglary, larceny or even other crimes, they know that they can get away with it because of the cashless bail law in New York State. We have to repeal cashless bail because what we're having is criminals getting arrested and getting out the very same day and committing crimes. Our police are doing a great job making those arrests. But the criminals that are robbing homes and stores and being released before our cops can even finish the paperwork is unacceptable. Unfortunately, in New York State, criminals have more rights than victims and that has to end.

(Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: People are getting hurt, property is getting stolen and there are no consequences. So again, we need to let our state legislators know and the governor know that this is unacceptable here in New York State. The revolving door of criminality is something that has to end, and we must continue to work together to make sure that happens. While some places are defunding the police, here in Nassau we are continuing to invest in our police.

(Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: Commissioner Ryder is going to like this one, it's his pet project.

We recently broke ground on our $12 million Nassau County Police Department Training Village, which will be completed in October of 2025. It will be state of the art, the best in the world, and people not only will train here in this region, but people from all over the world will be coming here to train at our new facility. Congratulations.

(Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: We also broke ground on our new Second Precinct station, which was destroyed by a fire. I made the determination immediately after inspecting the building that it wasn't worth saving, and that we needed a new, state of the art police facility in the Second Precinct, so you will get that, Joe Saladino.

(Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN:
Vulnerable children need protection and we take that very seriously here in Nassau County. My administration instituted a program where now we are going to hire retired law enforcement officers with a background in investigations to assist our Department of Social Services in reducing the caseload in child protective services cases that has been seriously backlogged for years. When I came into office, there were too many cases for too few caseworkers and investigators, and we are going to put an end to that. We are here to protect our children and to make sure that no child falls between the cracks.

(Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: We have also hired 87 new corrections officers since I took office in 2022, to ensure that our jail is safe for our officers, secure for our neighborhoods, and humane for those we incarcerate. The sheriff didn't even clap for that. Come on, Sheriff.

(Whereupon, applause.)

outstanding job, as is our Chief Fire Marshal, Michael Uttaro, one of the consummate professionals. Thank you for what you're doing.

(Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: We continue to be fiscally prudent. We continue to market this county, because it's a great place to do business, to visit, and to work.

While the previous administration had proposed $150 million tax increase for 2024, my administration has eliminated this tax increase.

(Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: There will be no tax increase for 2024. There will be no tax increase for the next three years. We have a three year plan that will not have a tax increase. Despite the fact that we have record high inflation, we are managing the county in a prudent way, and we are doing things that we know will increase the tax base

so that we don't have to increase

(Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: Recent reports from the Regional Planning Council indicate that Nassau and Suffolk County send over $14 billion more in taxpayer funds to Albany than we get back. We are a cash cow. We are the piggy bank for the State of New York. And you know what? It would be nice if the State would join us in some of the things that are important to our residents, and not things that are important to other regions in the state.

(Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: My administration has significantly reduced the tax refund liability by $437 million. It was $707 million in 2022. This past year, we paid out only $270 million, saving our taxpayers over a half a billion dollars.

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: Due to our aggressive marketing of the County, through our program of going out and advertising all Nassau County has to offer, sales tax revenues have increased by over $165 million over budget this last two years. Our economy is strong and it's getting stronger because we are finally letting people throughout the world, not just the United States, know what a great place this is, how we have the best parks, the most beautiful beaches. We've got world class shopping, we've got great restaurants, we've got a healthcare network that's second to none. But more importantly, we've got great people here in Nassau County. And a great housing stock.

(Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: I am happy to report that we have now closed the books on 2023, and our surplus will be in the tens of millions of dollars. We're not running a surplus -- we're not

1
2 running a deficit, rather; no deficit
3 here. We're going to have a surplus this 4 year, and that will make life more 5 affordable for our residents here in 6 Nassau County.

7 (Whereupon, applause.)

8 COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: Andy 9 Persich, who runs our our Budget and 10 Management Department here in the County, 11 and David Chang, our Treasurer, they 12 said, Bruce, we haven't had a county
13 executive in 12 years go to the rating 14 agencies and make the case for the fiscal 15 integrity of Nassau County. If you do 16 so, I think they'll be receptive to your 17 message of economic development. So I
18 went two consecutive days to New York
19 City. We met with all the rating 20 agencies, and I'm happy to report they 21 agreed with the policies of my 22 administration, and they gave us a bond
23 rating increase. So we upgraded our bond 24 rating, which is going to save our 25 taxpayers money when we go out to bond.

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: And we can improve our roads and our infrastructure with the extra money.

Again, the way to keep real property taxes down is to expand the tax base, and that's what we need to do. We need to attract businesses and people to Nassau County. If we lift the tax base, if we increase economic development, we won't have to increase property taxes and that's a fixed cost on our young people; it's a fixed cost on the middle class; it's a fixed cost on our senior citizens. And we have to protect our senior citizens because they're the ones who are the foundation of this county and built this county. We've got to make sure it's affordable for them to stay here in Nassau County.

(Whereupon, applause.)

couple of days. Nassau University Medical Center is a quality healthcare facility. It is an important healthcare facility. But some people are under the mistaken impression that this is a County run facility. It is not a County run facility. It is a independent public benefit corporation created by the state with state employees, and they must pay their fair share, making sure that those who are uninsured or under-insured get quality healthcare here in Nassau County and the region. Nassau University Medical Center not only takes care of our population here in Nassau County that's vulnerable, but we also do so for Queens and Western Suffolk County. It is worth saving. But how do we save an institution that in 2017, state aid for NUMC was $189 million and this past year, 2023, shockingly, the State reduced their investment to only $30 million? This is not the mismanagement of NUMC. This is not because of the employees of NUMC who were outstanding healthcare professionals, from our nursing staff to the people who provide maintenance and security there. This is because the State is defunding our only hospital here that is a safety net for our most vulnerable. Our voices need to be heard. When we are sending over $14 billion in Nassau and Suffolk County more to the State than we get back, it would be a pittance to send down a $100 million a year, which is a lot less than what was given in 2017, 2018, 2019 and 2020. Because, you know what? The management of the hospital has improved and is getting better, but you can't take away $150 million plus in state aid and expect it to operate. It's important for our residents. It's important for our firefighters with a burn center. We should make sure that we let the State know that they have to fulfill their obligations to Nassau County and this region.

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: The State is now interjecting itself, sadly, in our local elections, by changing local elections from odd years to even years. That means that our local officials, our county and town officials like Jen DeSena, they're going to have to run in presidential and gubernatorial years. Now, can you imagine how long the ballot will be? There's already ballot drop off in those years.

What about the local issues? Our community issues that will get drowned out by federal and state issues. This is outrageous. For 125 years, our elections have been held on odd years. Why are they changing it now? I would say it's blatantly political, it's cynical and it's wrong. It's instructive to note, they didn't change the law for New York City. The mayor and the city council are still going to run on odd years. So if they claim they're saving money and being more efficient, why aren't they doing it in New York City, which is much larger than Nassau and Suffolk County, and much larger than every other county in the state of New York? It's not fair to our residents, and it's not right. And I'm calling on all of our elected officials on the county and town level to step up and say, this is wrong. This is partisan politics. It's blatantly political, and we have to change it back to where it was.

(Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: It seems the State is always coming up with another ingenious way to tax the residents of Nassau County. Now they have congestion pricing. If you work in downtown New York City, downtown Manhattan, you now have to pay a large fee, they're talking about $24, just for the privilege of driving south of 60th Street in Manhattan. There are people that go to school there. There are people that work there. There are people that

1
2 want to visit there. Maybe their kids are 3 living there. It's not right. It's a tax
4 on people who live outside of Manhattan.
5 It's a tax on the people of Brooklyn and 6 Queens, Bronx and Staten Island, Nassau, 7 Suffolk County, Westchester County. It's
8 a tax and it's not right. And by the way, 9 I think it's foolish because a lot of 10 people are going to get fed up and 11 they're going to shop here in Nassau 12 County, and they're going to move here to 13 Nassau County.

14 (Whereupon, applause.)

15 COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: We have 16 to continue to fight against congestion 17 pricing.

18 For over 25 years, there has been 19 proposal after proposal after proposal 20 for development of the HUB and they've 21 all failed. I put forth a proposal that 22 got the backing of almost everybody in 23 the Legislature; it passed 17 to 1. That and world class spa and casino here in Nassau County creating thousands of permanent jobs and thousands of construction jobs, over $5 billion in construction. It would keep the men and women of Nassau County working. It would provide permanent jobs. It's good for the economy. It'll provide $100 million to Nassau County, to the Town of Hempstead, and to the communities that members of the Legislature serve to make them better and more affordable. We've got to support that application. We gotta back that application.

(Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: If the licensing process is fair and even and based on the merits, Nassau County should get that gaming license and we will be the highest grossing casino in the United States, guaranteed.

Again, we have to be mindful that we have working people in our building trades, in service unions. They're going to get jobs. It's going to provide for their kids. They're going to have apprentice programs with Nassau Community College so kids coming out of community college will have a career waiting for them. It makes sense that we back this proposal.

Hofstra University continues to prosecute this hurtful lawsuit aimed to frustrate our efforts. They should be ashamed of their NIMBYism.

Hofstra President Susan Poser lied about her collusion with another gaming entity competing for a gaming license in Queens. What a poor role model for Hofstra and its students. Susan Poser, if successful, will destroy our effort to produce thousands of union jobs here in Nassau County, and it is wrong.

(Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: We have to make sure that we let President Poser know that her job is to work with us, not work against her host county.

Speaking of our great unions, our CSEA, our police unions, our corrections officers, all the wonderful people that work here in Nassau County, when I came into office, longevity is something that had been going on for years and years and years and couldn't be solved. We solved it in a few months. We got everybody together. I personally took part in the negotiations and the mediation. And you know what? We fixed it. The problem was good for the taxpayers and it was good for our workers.

(Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: We also have signed agreements with all of our unions but one, which we will resolve hopefully in the next couple of weeks. Finally, the men and women who work for the County will have labor peace, and they will have the security of knowing what their contract is in the future and what benefits they have for themselves and their families.

During the course of the CSEA contract negotiation, which I believe resulted in a fair deal for both sides, the Union came to us and asked us to change their healthcare plan to make the figures work. And within months, after we made this agreement and our employees joined the State insurance fund Excelsior, the State, with very little warning, canceled the program, putting our employees healthcare in jeopardy. Another blow against Nassau County by the State. I don't think it's a coincidence. It's funny, as soon as Nassau County and their CSEA employees entered the State run Excelsior Health Plan, it was canceled. I don't think there's a coincidence there. I think that we need to stand up, our union employees need to stand up and tell state government to stop playing games with their lives.

every corner of the county. We had record breaking concerts, including the 40,000 people who came out to see Boyz II Men in Eisenhower Park, a truly phenomenal event of a stature and amount that we've never seen in Nassau County.

For the first time, we held the Korean American Games here in Nassau County, with over 10,000 participants and fans coming from around the world to compete in athletic events here in Nassau County.

My first order of business as county executive was to restore the Empire Games for the physically challenged, and make sure that Nassau County was the home to this great state athletic event, and that we hold this at Mitchell Field and some of our other facilities so that our physically challenged can have an opportunity to be in a premier athletic competition and display and showcase their athletic abilities. And for the second year in a row we have held the Feliz Navidad ceremony and celebration at Mitchell Field partnering with the United States Marine Corps and Toys for Tots so that the Spanish speaking residents of Nassau County could be a part of County Christmas events and enjoy the holiday season, the most wonderful time of the year.

This year in 2024, already we held a Chinese Lunar New Year celebration at the Tilles Center just a few weeks ago, and we had over 2000 people of Asian American background who came to enjoy the Lunar New Year. It was a wonderful, wonderful experience. It's something that we are going to make bigger and better each and every year, because it was a lot of fun COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: We've also had numerous meetings with the black and Hispanic, local minority owned businesses. We talked to them and had forums with them, and we've actually engaged in making the process easier for our minority owned businesses to operate and do business with the County of Nassau. I think that's a great thing that we need to do and it's too long in not coming. I made it a priority that we would leave no community behind and make sure that all of our local, minority owned businesses had an equal opportunity to do business here and in the county of Nassau.

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: So we promote literacy so our kids know the joy of reading books.

I was approached recently, very recently, in the last six months, by the International Cricket Commission. They had been looking for a place to hold their World Cup, which is basically the second largest sporting event in the world. They were negotiating with New York City, and Mayor Adams was very much in favor of it. But some of the City Council members were giving them a tremendous amount of grief and problems. They said, look, we like Mayor Adams. We agree with him that New York City is a great place, but we got to look for another place. They were going to leave the region. They were going to leave this area and not hold an event in the New York Metropolitan region. They approached me and they said, would you be interested in having the World Cup of the International Cricket Commission? And I didn't know much about cricket at all, other than a lot of our residents seem to enjoy playing it. And I said, yeah, I would be interested. I was interested but didn't know that much about it. And they said, our India versus Pakistan event will eclipse your Super Bowl here in America. I said, what are you talking about? He said, well, how many people watch the Super Bowl? I said, I'm not sure, hundreds of millions? He goes, about 250 million. He goes, the India versus Pakistan event, which I believe Nassau County can get, will have 1.2 billion people watching around the world.

And yes, we got the premier event, India versus Pakistan.

(Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: We have a temporary modular stadium, the same one that was used at Formula One in Las Vegas, the same one that's used in professional golf tournaments around the world. They are busy constructing that stadium right now. That is providing jobs, that is providing work. There's a multiplier effect with our local businesses who will benefit. We will have so many new visitors from around the world coming to Nassau County to appreciate everything we have here, and it is going to be an economic tremendous driver for our county and for the businesses located there. So we are very happy. And I want to thank the International Cricket Commission for choosing Nassau County for their premier event. Thank you so much.

Some people think that I am critical of Governor Hochul. I am when I think she's wrong. And when I think she's right, I'm going to compliment her as well. I am very pleased that the State of New York will be hosting at Belmont State Park, the number one golf event in the world, the Ryder Cup, right here in Nassau County. It's going to be a great event. And yes, it is an international competition. More people will be coming in again from outside to see what Nassau County has to offer. And contrary to what our Police Commissioner says, the Ryder Cup was not named after him.

(Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: I also want to be fair and compliment the governor for approving the New York

3

Racing Association's $400 million

4 investment in the renovation of Belmont

5

Racetrack. It's long overdue. It's home to the most important leg of the Triple

Crown, and it will provide, again, more

It'll be a financial boom to that part of assessment system was a complete residents, and it cost us a lot of money.

My administration, working with

Comptroller Elaine Phillips, has gotten 22 system more fair, more accurate, more transparent and more user friendly, and we are going to continue to improve. By COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: We have allocated over $13.8 million in opioid funds to various organizations for opioid prevention, treatment, and enforcement. And that money is being put to good use. There are those who say we should take the $90 million and just spend it. No. We are taking a very measured, methodical and important choice to make sure that whoever gets these funds uses them in the right way. So basically, we're giving the money out on an annual basis. We've got a four year plan now, and we have given it to organizations like the Catholic Health System. We have given it to NUMC to support their substance abuse programs and their mental health programs. And we've given it to a lot of community

(Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: But, as we tackle the opioid epidemic that has plagued our country, the Federal Government continues to have porous borders where people can come over. We don't know who they are. They haven't been vetted. They could be terrorists. They could be criminals. We know some of them are engaged in drug dealing, and they're bringing deadly fentanyl into the United States that's making its way here. That's killing 300 of our young people in America each and every day. We will not be safe in the United States until we seal our borders and then the fentanyl will dry up, and it will make a safer place for all of us.

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: Nassau County is home to one of the largest Jewish populations in the world. On October 7th, it was a terrible day for many of the residents here in Nassau County who had friends and family that lived in Israel. Israel has been our closest ally in the Middle East, and they share the same democratic principles that we do. When our residents of Nassau County saw the terror that was inflicted in Israel by a terrorist organization, HAMAS, we within three days, organized a rally of 6000 people to support the people of Israel at our Harry Chapin Lakeside Theater in Eisenhower Park, where every race, religion and ethnic group participated in support of our ally. (Whereupon, applause.)

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: Thank you. Thank you. Sit down, it's almost over (laughter).

We've also had a tumultuous last ten days. I was hearing from many girls and women who participate in girls and women only sports that they were concerned about what was happening around America, where biological males were injecting themselves into female and girls leagues and teams, and it created an unsafe environment, unfair competition, and quite frankly, it was wrong. So I issued an executive order to protect the women and girls of Nassau County from that type of bullying. And it is bullying. We are not anti-transgender. We are not transphobic here in Nassau County. And my order made sure to mention that those who are biological males who wanted to identify as transgender females, had an opportunity to compete. They could compete against other biological males. They could compete in co-ed leagues and teams where everybody knew that the competition was going to be mixed between males and females. And if they want, our great Commissioner of Parks and Recreation, Commissioner Belyea, and I will sit down. If they want to start a transgender league or a transgender team, we are a loving county. We are home to every race, religion and ethnic group and every lifestyle. But the bullying of women is something that we cannot accept here in Nassau County. We don't want unsafe environments for our girls. They work hard. They train hard. And for decades we have been working on ways to make it more fair for women to compete in athletics and sports. We've been doing that for 50 years since the passage of Title IX, and we have to nurture and support that. The only way to do it is to keep women's sports and girls sports for biological females, and not

COUNTY EXECUTIVE BLAKEMAN: We will abide by the law. We will abide by the Federal Constitution. Under Federal Law and our United States Constitution, women are a protected class, and we will continue to make sure that we fight for their right to be safe, secure and have a level playing field to compete.

So I ask all of you, especially our legislators who are here today, to join us in this common sense approach so that we can have fair competition and we can have a community and a county where people know transparently what they're competing against and who they're competing against.

Legislature, I ask you to join me.
