WHEREAS, the Final Report noted that the duration of this review and approval process in Nassau County is between six and twelve months; and

WHEREAS, it is the finding of this Legislature that delay in issuing building permits by municipalities due to delays in County approval pursuant to §239-f of the General Municipal Law is a major cause of higher building costs, loss of jobs and delays in collection of enhanced tax revenues on improved property; and

WHEREAS, it is within the best interest of Nassau County residents to establish a deadline for the review of §239-f applications that balances the County's interest in conducting a thoughtful and thorough review and an applicant's interest in avoiding undue delay; now, therefore approval, disapproval, or approval subject to stated conditions. If the Commissioner fails to make a report within thirty business days, any and all County fees associated with building permit application shall be reduced by twenty-five percent (25%), and further reduced by twenty-five percent (25%) every ten business days thereafter that such report is delinquent. Once such information or clarification is received, the Commissioner shall have an additional thirty business days to report to the city, village or town, as applicable, his or her approval, disapproval, or approval subject to stated conditions.

(c) If the Commissioner requests a meeting with an applicant, the initial time period shall be tolled for the number of business days that the Commissioner is delayed by inability or refusal of the applicant to meet on the date and at the place specified by the Commissioner .

(d) For proposed projects with a 40,000 square feet or larger land area, the applicant shall meet with the Commissioner prior to the submission of the building permit application. An applicant for such a project shall file a written request for a meeting with the Commissioner. The initial period set forth in paragraph (a) of this section shall not begin to run until one week following such request. However, if the Commissioner specifies an earlier date for such meeting, the initial period shall run from the date of said meeting. The Commissioner and the applicant shall discuss and may agree to a different timeline by which the Commissioner shall review and issue comments or request additional information for this project.

(e) The Commissioner's review and comment on additional information and clarification provided by the applicant shall be limited to issues raised in the Commissioner's initial request for information and clarification, and no new issues shall be raised.
