Re: Adverse information memo
Staff Summary A-49-2026 Agilent Technologies, Inc.

Adverse information that was uncovered was:

On the Business History Form, the vendor responded affirmatively to Items #12 and #13.

On March 28, 2025, the US Nuclear Regulatory Commission imposed a $9,000 civil penalty against the vendor. Following the incident, Agilent conducted a root cause analysis, revised relevant procedures, and retrained staff to prevent similar occurrences. All corrective actions have been finalized, and the issue is now resolved.

The vendor received an OSHA violation on February 20, 2025, totaling $10,000. Following an OSHA inspection and two disputed citations concerning a chemical exposure issue, Agilent hired an independent third party to assess specific steps in a manufacturing process and identify ways to enhance its existing lockout/tagout (LOTO) program for routine maintenance. As part of a subsequent settlement with OSHA, the serious citation was dismissed, and the related penalty was reclassified and reduced under Citation 01001B ("Other"). The LOTO program was revised based on the findings, and the inspection and citation matter has since been resolved.

A news article reported on an employee of the vendor who was allegedly terminated due to race and age bias. This claim was submitted to the Delaware Department of Labor, which investigated the allegations and concluded that "no reasonable cause exists to believe that discrimination occurred," resulting in the dismissal of the case. Agilent has not yet received the mentioned complaint and is currently not a party to this litigation. Although the allegations have been made public through the filing, Agilent has not been formally implicated and may not be in the future. If the plaintiff continues with their claims against Agilent, the company will defend itself robustly. The allegations of discrimination are denied, as shown by the findings of the Delaware Department of Labor, and Agilent's actions in response to the incident reflect its commitment to employee safety and product quality, which are among the company's top priorities.

The Department has reviewed this information and determined that the vendor is responsible for this award.

OSHA Violation

U.S. Department of Labor – Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA)

On September 15, 2021, LiRo Engineers, Inc. (LiRo) was cited by the U.S. Department of Labor – Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) for violating OSHA statute section 1926.501(b)(1) for failing to provide fall protection. On March 16, 2021, work was being performed by a hazmat abatement contractor at a project at Pier 76 in Manhattan, where LiRo was providing third-party environmental monitoring. It is alleged that LiRo failed to provide protection on the sides and edges of a walking surface in accordance with the OSHA statute. LiRo stated that there was no opportunity for LiRo to provide the fall protection prior to the incident and that it was the responsibility of the abatement contractor to provide such protection. Based on these facts, OSHA agreed to decrease the violation from “Serious” to “Other-than-Serious”. LiRo and OSHA have entered into a settlement agreement reflecting the revised violation status and LiRo agreed to pay a penalty of $13,653.00. As part of this settlement, LiRo’s Standard Corporate Health and Safety Program has been revised, and LiRo’s personnel have been trained accordingly to ensure that workplace incidents will not happen in the future. This matter is now closed.

Summary of Violations

In over thirty (30) year in business, LiRo Engineers, Inc. and its family of companies (collectively, “LiRo”) has undertaken literally thousands of complex and challenging construction, engineering, architectural design and environmental testing and consulting service projects in New York City, New York State, New England and the surrounding areas.

While we continuously strive for excellence on all of our projects, over the years LiRo’s environmental group has received violations for certain non-compliance with environmental testing regulations. Our environmental testing group, which is separate and distinct from our civil/structural design and MEP groups, conducts thousands of air monitoring assessments annually. Despite the testing volume, we strive to eliminate even the smallest administrative infractions. It should be noted that a large majority of the violations involved administrative deficiencies. The health and safety of our employees and other workers at these sites was not impacted. Regardless, we consider these violations to be a serious matter, and we have taken numerous steps to eliminate or, at a minimum, mitigate the occurrence of these violations. Our efforts have been successful as the number of issued violations has decreased from nine (9) in 2023, six (6) in 2024, one (1) in 2025 and one pending in 2026, thus far.

For example, all technical staff hires receive classroom training as required for certification and we supplement this with hands-on training where inspectors are coupled with experienced technicians to become more familiar with the practical applications of code enforcement, as well observe firsthand, abatement/remediation contractor means and methods.

As a further business practice, we hold all-hands staff meetings where management reviews our written internal operations standards, safety protocols, changes to applicable regulations and “lessons-learned” from unique project events. Our Project Managers follow up by making site inspections that we record as part of our business unit/corporate quality control efforts. In recognition of the fact that, for identical projects, the different code compliance agencies have different requirements, to safeguard against misinterpretation or confusion, we provide our field staff with a summary of inspection and air sampling protocols that reflect the specific federal, state, or local regulations that govern each project.

Each of the foregoing activities is intended to educate and train our staff to mitigate the chance of administrative violations and ensure proper performance of environmental testing services. LiRo has a no tolerance policy regarding code non-compliance and any employee found to have violated these code requirements is subject to severe disciplinary action, including suspension without pay and termination.

We evaluate our process and training requirements on a regular basis, and we look for every opportunity to improve our performance and eliminate such violations in the future.

As stated above, our efforts to severely mitigate testing violations have been successful and our commitment to this effect will continue into the balance of this year and beyond.

Responsibility Determination Memorandum

DPW Summary Finding

It is the Department's opinion that based on the information known to the Department and summarized in this memorandum, that the vendor is a responsible contractor for the purpose of being awarded the above-referenced contract.

Prior to the award of a contract, New York State agencies and political subdivisions, are required to make a determination of responsibility of the proposed vendor. State Finance Law §163 (9) (f); Highway Law §38; Public Building Law §8; General Municipal Law §103. General Municipal Law §103 requires the County to award contracts to a "responsible bidder" but does not define that term. However, the State Finance Law, which is the analogous law for contracting by New York State agencies, defines responsible as: "financial ability, legal capacity, integrity and past performance of a business entity and as such terms have been interpreted relative to public procurements". NY CLS St. Fin §163 (1) (c). This standard is applied to procurements pursuant to NYGML §103. Matter of AAA Caring & Rubbish Removal, Inc. v. Town of Southeast, 17 N.Y. 3d 136 (2011)

The NY State Office of General Services employees the FLIP analysis -financial ability, legal capacity, integrity and past performance – to meet its obligation to make a responsibility determination.

Application of the FLIP test

As explained in this memorandum, the FLIP test, can be used to evaluate a vendor's responsibility.

1. Financial and Organizational Capacity
The Department has reviewed materials supplied by vendor as required by the bid documents and is satisfied that the vendor has met the financial and organizational capacity as required by the bid documents.
2. Legal Authority
Vendor has resolved the insurance lapse, a paid the fine as described herein. It will be removed from the debarred list within 10 days of October 1, 2026.
3. Integrity
Vendor possesses requisite business integrity-analysis of vendor information described in later portion of this memorandum.

Thompson Consulting Services

Responsibility Determination Memorandum

Based upon the vendor's prior performance on County contracts, as well as a check of vendor's reference, vendor is qualified to perform the work for the above-referenced contract.

Nassau County Procurement Policy Requirements

Similarly, the Nassau County Procurement Policy states that, "a vendor is deemed responsible to be awarded a contract when it has demonstrated that it has the integrity and capacity to perform the required services on behalf of the County." Nassau County Procurement Policy at Appendix E. Appendix E goes on to state that factors to consider in determining the responsibility of a vendor include: financial resources, organizational capacity, a satisfactory record of performance and a satisfactory record of business integrity - an analysis identical to the FLIP test.

For purposes of its consideration of responsibility, the County requires potential vendors to submit vendor disclosure forms. Those forms are used by the Department as a tool when conducting a vendor responsibility review with the intent of determining "if there exists any material adverse information impacting the vendor's capacity or integrity." Quoting Appendix E.

The following is quoted from Appendix E:

For adverse information to be considered a factor in a vendor responsibility review, the information must be found to be material. Not all adverse information may be material. Materiality is greater for more recent events than for less recent ones, and materiality is greater for events concerning services more closely related to those required by the County than services that are less so. An event is considered most material when it concerns services equivalent or similar to those required by the County, has occurred recently, occurred in close geographic proximity to the County, and involves one or more individuals or organizational departments that may be involved in the conduct of the County contract. Also relevant in this assessment is whether the event involves a relatively large or small amount of money, services or product; whether the event involves a threat to life, health, safety, or property, whether criminality or possible criminality is involved; and the quantity of adverse information. In addition, any adverse information discovered by a department, which should have been, but was not disclosed by the vendor on the appropriate disclosure form(s) may be considered material.

Examples of adverse information that may not be considered material include adverse social media posts or poor reviews of a company posted on the internet. In addition, adverse information that occurred and/or was resolved more than five years ago generally is not considered material, although once such information has been identified the department conducting the review should investigate whether any similar subsequent event(s) occurred that may be subject to further analysis or suggesting a concern regarding the vendor's corporate culture.

A finding of nonresponsibility has significant implications for the vendor, since subsequent to that determination the vendor must disclose it in future solicitation responses to public entities. Therefore, the finding must be based upon evidence of a sufficiently severe failure of capacity and/or integrity on the part of the vendor. Any adverse information which is not deemed to be sufficient for a finding of nonresponsibility must be demonstrated by the vendor to have been addressed sufficiently through implementation of corrective actions and/or plans to ensure that the adverse event(s) shall not impact or recur during the conduct of the County contract under consideration. Corrective actions that may be considered in this regard include, but are not limited to, termination of the employee(s) involved, introduction of new policies and procedures, employee trainings, reorganization of the vendor's structure, introduction of new internal or external monitors, payment of all fines, satisfactory resolution of the matter by the investigating entity, etc.

Application of the Materiality Evaluation to Determine Vendor Integrity

As described in this memorandum, the Nassau County Procurement Policy at Appendix E identifies factors that should be considered when determining if the adverse information available about a vendor rises to level of materiality (vendor responsibility determination is dependent upon material information).

Vendor Adverse Information

Please see attached pages of the Vendor questionnaire at page 2, question 13. The department is satisfied with the actions taken by the Vendor to resolve the lapse in its insurance coverage. Vendor is a responsible vendor for the performance of the scope of work in Contract H1003-01CH.
