A LONG ISLAND FIRM

Builds a Strong Reputation

Hinck Electrical Contractor, Inc., of Long Island, New York has a reputation for tackling tough jobs, while maintaining family ties and ensuring employee loyalty. The company also prides itself on its wide array of services.

-Written by Nate Hendley

Currently based in Bohemia, New York, the electrical contracting firm was founded in 1970 by John Buck and Roy Hinck. Buck's son, also named John, is currently the company president while Roy Hinck's son, Craig, is currently vice-president.

In the not-so-distant future, more family members might be added. "My son wants to come into this business. He's eighteen. He's going to Roger Williams University, taking construction management. When he graduates in 2020, his goal is to get in here and continue [the business]," says President Buck. »

CONTRACTOR, INC.

QUALIFIED ELECTRICAL CONTRACTOR

► The company's main focus at present is Long Island, though "for the right projects, we do occasionally work in the five boroughs [of New York City] as well as occasionally even into upstate New York," says Buck.

Hinck has not ventured into other states yet, though "for the right opportunity, we would absolutely consider it," states the company president.

In 2015, Hinck's revenues came to $17 million. This year, revenues are forecast to nearly double. "Fiscal 2016 will be our highest sales volume year in Hinck Electric's history, with us projecting sales volume close to 30 million," says Buck. At present, Hinck employs about sixty workers, but that figure might leap to eighty by the end of summer.

Over the decades, Hinck has earned a reputation for doing difficult jobs that other companies either can't or won't take on. "We do like the more technically challenging and involved projects such as design-build, submarine cables and intelligent transportation system projects as well as bascular span drawbridges and medium voltage substations. Although [such jobs] may have a greater risk associated with them, they can also have a higher potential for reward. Because we have so much experience in each of these types of work, I believe that the risk factor to us is far less than it would be for other electrical contractors," says Buck.

◉ Wantagh bascular span drawbridge over sloop channel - Completed 2010. First brand new from the ground up bascular span drawbridge completed on Long Island in past 40 years. This electrical project included complete electrical and control systems, submarine cables, bridge operation, generator building, lighting, etc.. Just to the left of this bridge is the temporary by-pass bridge completed electrically by Hinck Electric in 2001.

"If one sector of the industry is slow, then we focus on another sector that is not."

Buck denies, however, that taking on complex jobs is the main 'secret' to Hinck's success. "I believe that is just one portion of it. I believe the greater secret to our success is the fact that we are extremely diversified. We excel at the above jobs I listed but also at much more, such as sewage treatment plants, pumping stations, traffic signal work construction and maintenance, airport runway lighting, ball field lighting, solar power ► installations and more. If one sector of the industry is slow, then we focus on another sector that is not. In our forty-six years in business, this diversification strategy has worked successfully year after year," he explains.

A high rate of employee retention is one of the reasons Hinck can take on so many tough projects and offer such a diversified portfolio.

"People come to this company to work, and they never leave. It is a very positive, team-oriented environment where success and loyalty are expected and rewarded. People here recognize that and say this is the place they want to work at for the rest of their lives. Our extremely low employee turnover rate reflects that fact. We look for people who are eager to learn, willing to work hard and enjoy working in a team environment," says Buck.

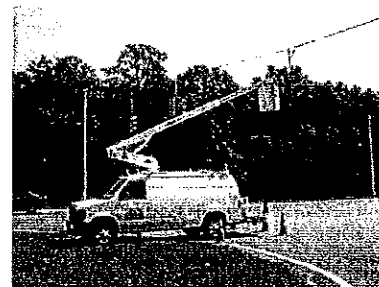

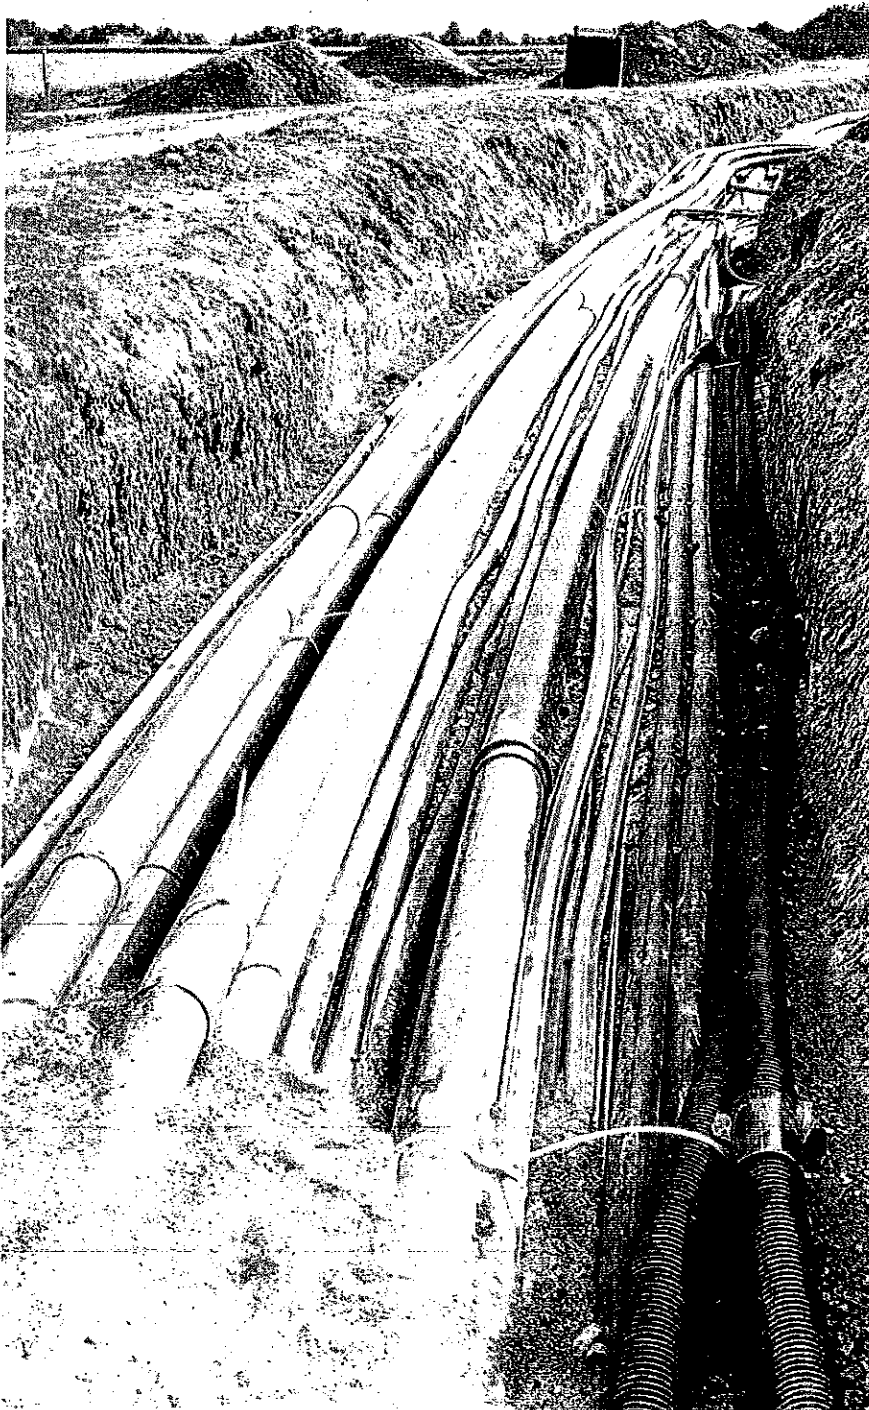

Hinck works to maintain a similar sense of loyalty with its suppliers. The company views suppliers and vendors "as teammates we need to help us win bids. We know if we pay timely, live up to our word, treat them with integrity in our dealings with them than most of the time they will do everything they can to help us win the next project. This over time can lead to advantages in the market. Contractors should not forget we need good suppliers as much as they need us," says Buck.

"We look for suppliers who live up to what they say in terms of delivery dates, terms et cetera, as well as competitive pricing and a willingness to work with us to help us meet our needs," he adds.

"The company views suppliers and vendors 'as teammates we need to help us win bids.'"

Hinck belongs to several organizations and is a union contractor. The company is a member of the National Electrical Contractors Association (NECA), the Long Island Contractors Association (LICA) and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW).

Buck cites a few recent jobs Hinck has been involved with that are particularly noteworthy: "A couple of projects stand out in my mind that I think really shows ⚙️ Traffic signal relamp at Town of Brookhaven intersection. Hinck is a leading traffic signal maintenance contractor on Long Island, currently maintaining over 1000 signals - 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Installation of 15KV 750MCM cable at Brookhaven National Laboratory. Part of Hinc's highly acclaimed, three year upgrade project at BNL which included four brand new 13.8KV to 2.4KV substations, new 13.8KV and 2.4KV feeders, new duct banks, and related high voltage splicing and terminations.

how diversified our capabilities are. One is, the Brookhaven National Lab NSLS-II project, which was a $1 billion dollar initiative undertaken by the federal government under the Federal Stimulus package. This involved building one of the most advanced synchrotrons facilities in the world. We had the site electrical sub-contract. Our responsibilities included eight unit substations, six inch and four-inch duct banks throughout forty acres of land, five miles of 1000MCM, 5KV cable, fifteen miles of 500MCM, 600V cable, three site pump stations and emergency generators. Despite some difficult challenges, the job was a great success," he states.

"Another job we are very proud of that is still ongoing is our NYSDOT (New York State Department of Transportation) region 10 INFORM traffic management system maintenance contracts ... these were won in August 2013 and will continue until at least 2019. The two contracts total over $20 million. We are very proud to have [these contracts] because it took many, many years of traffic signal installation and maintenance and other ITS (Intelligent Transportation System) type projects to develop the qualifications necessary to be even be allowed to bid this type of work. The work involves maintaining the NYSDOT's region 10 INFORM computerized traffic management system which incorporates freeway surveillance on all major east-west and north-south highways and parkways on Long Island using vehicle detectors, message board signs, ramp metering control, CCTV and other kinds of traffic control and communication equipment."

"Another job that I think again shows how diversified we are that we are currently in the middle of is the [Wreck Lead Bridge submarine cable] replacement project. For this approximately $10 million design-build project, we bid prime as a joint venture with Posillico Inc., whom we consider one of the top general contractors in the New York metro area. The job involves replacing sixteen submarine cables damaged by Hurricane Sandy," and other work, all the while "trying to minimize any downtime"

The company also did quite a bit of work following the devastation of Hurricane Sandy, which hit the eastern seaboard in 2012.

"Following Sandy, Hinck was inundated with work from different municipalities and agencies all over Long Island. From assisting the five major towns that we have traffic signal maintenance contracts with getting all the damaged traffic signals back and up and functioning to getting NYSDOT drawbridges that had been damaged by flooding functional again to assisting Nassau County get its flooded sewage pumping stations back on line we were busy for many, many months with millions of dollars work of work in repairs. Sandy-related work still continues, as strengthening and adding reinforcement against potential future flooding is still a priority throughout Long Island," says Buck.

● Hinck Electric currently has both the Northern and Southern Corridor contracts of NYSDOT's Region 10 INFORM Maintenance. INFORM is a computerized traffic management system, incorporating freeway surveillance using various types of vehicle detectors, variable message board information signs, ramp metering control, closed circuit television, and other various traffic control and communication equipment. The highways to be maintained include all major East West and North South Highways and Parkways on Long Island. Featured here is that portion of Hinck Electric's truck fleet devoted exclusively for these INFORM Maintenance contracts.

Hinck's marketing is largely based on referrals and testimonials from satisfied customers. "We really do not go out of our way to promote the company but instead rely on word-of-mouth to spread our reputation. We do, however, have a website available, really for information purposes so owners, municipalities or general contractors can get a better understanding about what we do and what we are about. I believe, however, that over forty-six years, most people in the construction industry on Long Island know about Hinck Electric and our excellent reputation," he says.

As for the future, Buck says, "our goal is to continue to grow and capture more and more of the market share of the electrical industry here on Long Island but also to give consideration to further expanding our presence in the New York City market."

"The only thing I would like to let people know is that Hinck takes great pride in every project we do. Our people truly care about doing a great job and keeping the customer satisfied. Our end goal is to make that customer feel that he will never want to do another electrical project without Hinck Electric involved as his electrical subcontractor," states Buck. ■

LOCAL 25 • I.B.E.W., Nassau and Suffolk Counties, Long Island, NY

January / February 2010

BNE'S NATIONAL SYNCHROTRON LIGHT SOURCE II MOVES FORWARD

The NSLS-II project at Brookhaven National Laboratory is finally under construction. The 912 million dollar facility is located on some 40 acres of property just east of the newly completed CFN Nanocenter. When completed in 2014/15, the research center will allow for unprecedented levels of examination regarding small particle discoveries into medical, energy and material sciences.

Currently Local 25 has two contractors working at the site. Gordon L. Seaman has been awarded the contract for the electrical construction of the building. Hinck Electric has been awarded the contract for the network of electrical site distribution associated with the facility. To appreciate the scope of the site distribution work, it involves installation of the following equipment: 8 unit substations, 8 4000A-480V 3 phase services, 5 miles 1,000 KCMIL 15KV cable (parallel sets), 15 miles of 500 KCMIL 600V cable – (all with associated 6" and 4" PVC duct banks), 3 site pump stations, 2-700 KW emergency generators with 10 ATS's and numerous duct bank runs – some ranging almost 20 feet below grade.

There is also an addition to the nearby substation (with an associated duct bank) being done by Bana Electric. This will be used to provide the new NSLS with its own primary service.

Construction schedules should continue to ramp up with increases in manpower support taking place throughout 2010 and well into 2011 and 2012. There is also stimulus money coming to the lab to help with other construction projects most notably the 65 million dollar Interdisciplinary Science Building (ISB), which is scheduled to start in 2010. The photos were taken by Hinck Electric Foreman John Martyn as construction of the site's duct banks progressed during 2009.

PROJECT PROFILE: LIRR CONTRACT #6183 – HINCK-POSILICO JV

When LIRR Contract #6183 “Design/Build Services for the Replacement of Wreck Lead Bridge Submarine Cables” was posted, Hinck Electrical Contractors knew it was a project tailor-made for their expertise. Not only does the Bohemia-based company have extensive submarine cable, Design-Build and LIRR work experience, but they've also worked on the sub cables of this exact same bridge back in 1988 and 2009. Hinck's 47 years of electrical construction experience coupled with Posillico providing all the civil work made for a very strong team. Posillico's design/build experience and their positive relationship with the LIRR only further enhanced the team's qualifications. To round out the team for the design portion of the project, Hardesty & Hanover was selected for their extensive submarine cable and bridge design experience.

After months of work to complete LIRR's complex RFP process, the contract was finally bid on 9/3/15. The Hinck-Posillico JV bid of $10,031,000 was determined to be the LIRR's best value proposal beating out Mass Electric's proposal of $12,776,000. And, after further discussions with the LIRR regarding scheduling and other issues, the project was finally awarded near the end of 2015.

With the long lead time required for submarine cables, construction finally began, in earnest, in September 2016. The project consisted of completing the LIRR design (from 30% to 100%), and replacing all Super Storm Sandy-damaged submarine cables at the Wreck Lead Bridge. This included the installation of nearly two miles of signal, power and communication submarine cables, almost a mile of underwater installed HDPE conduit, 13,000 feet of bridge mounted fiberglass conduit, navigation lights, 600V multi-conductor cables, lab testing of sub cables, new steel platform, related marine support (barges, boats, divers, etc.), concrete mattresses and finally, the removal of the existing damaged submarine cables once the new ones were energized.

The need to work within required Coast Guard regulations and the fact that the bridge needed to remain operational during the entire process were just two of the challenges this project presented. This meant dealing with constant train traffic, as well as difficult weather conditions (wind, waves and ice) and the inherent difficulties of any underwater installation. But with 98% of the work now completed, Hinck expects the project to be fully finished within the next few months. And, despite all the challenges, the joint venture of Hinck-Posillico JV will be able to say they have safely and successfully completed the project, on-time and under the LIRR's budget.

SAMPLE PROJECTS

Wantagh bascular span drawbridge over sloop channel. Completed In 2010, it's the first brand new from the ground up bascular span drawbridge completed on Long Island in past 40 years. This electrical project included complete electrical and control systems, submarine cables, bridge operation, generator building, lighting, and more. Just to the left of this bridge is the temporary bypass bridge completed electrically by Hinck Electric in 2001.

Hinck is the leading installer of submarine cables on Long Island having completed dozens of such installations over the past 30 years. One such installation pictured below shows a staging barge prepared and located to do the underwater installation of 5 reels of 2000 MCM positive cables on one side of the LIRR's Wreck Lead Bridge. This Project involved replacing a total of 12 reels of 2000 MCM traction power submarine cables as well as 2 reels of 37/C#14 Control submarine cable directly for the LIRR and as can be seen had to be done while keeping the existing LIRR drawbridge operational. This job was successfully completed in December 2008.

One of 27 Variable Message Board signs installed by Hinck as part of its 25 million dollar Intelligent Transportation System (ITS) upgrade of the Southern State Parkway which additionally included the installation of over a half a million feet of fiber optic cable, 5 communication nodes, 12 Pole mounted Video Cameras, and 95 video image detection devices (VIDS).

Dear Mr. Buck:

I wish to commend you and your company for outstanding performance on the Wreck Lead Bridge submarine cable replacement project in Reynolds Channel, Long Beach, NY. You were able to meet difficult challenges throughout the project and the LIRR feels you have exceeded all expectations of performance.

I continually monitored your performance, particularly in the key areas of Safety, Quality, Scheduling, and Management (Quality of Service and Deliverable and Management of consultants).

Hinck's progress and completion of the project met the contract duration and /milestones.

Your company complied with all contract safety requirements and guidelines. Hinck developed and implemented an accident prevention program as required by the contract.

Re: NCBA Atlantic Beach Bridge Over Reynolds Channel Electrical, Mechanical, Structural Rehabilitation.

To Whom it may concern,

Hinck Electric, in the early summer of 2012, had installed a broad band Ethernet link between PLCC's in each bridge tower so as to maintain operational communication between the towers as there were no spare communication conductors available in the submarine cable. The work done by Hinck included a site survey to assure no conflict with JFK approach guidance radios, placement to assure clear signal path during raised leaf operation of the bridge and IP addressing of radios to work with the PLCC system. In addition, Hinck has maintained this temporary system right up until the present time with it projected to be removed by Dec. of this year. Hinck did a very good job throughout not just on the installation and maintenance of the Ethernet Link but also on the complete electrical system rehabilitation of the entire bridge. I would highly recommend Hinck for any Ethernet work you may have as well as Bascule Span Drawbridge electrical work.

Very truly yours,

HARDESTY & HANOVER

Dear John,

After hurricane Sandy struck N.Y., we lost power to a large number of our bridges including all of our drawbridges. I was very much appreciative of Hinck Electric's response in making critical and immediate repairs to the submarine cable at the Loop Parkway drawbridge. Additionally, getting the temporary generator on line at the WSP drawbridge and performing repairs to the transfer switch at the MSP drawbridge were also of great benefit. Although I am sure that you had your hands full, Hinck Electric's immediate and effective response to our call for assistance allowed our crews to focus on, and resolve, other storm related issues. On behalf of Bridge Maintenance, I would like to thank you, but I would also like to say a special thank you to the men that went out and did all of the good work, namely: Pete Bonziglia, Pat Bonziglia, Carlos Dominguez and Tommy Thompson.

Sincerely,

subject: Teamwork
Electrical System Modifications – Phase II
Project Completion

The Electrical System Modifications -- Phase II project is now complete. It was my privilege to be a part of an excellent team that took this project through the conceptual, design, planning and execution stages to its successful completion.

My appreciation goes to Abass Wessen, whose design documents translated into a construction package that is now successfully operating as a much improved electrical infrastructure for the Laboratory. Helping the effort was Roy Butler's inspection services.

The contractor's performance, especially that of Hinck Electric Company's supervisor, Tom Thompson, is commendable. The construction work was carried out over a two-year period, without any safety violations and without any major technical deficiency.

Last but not the least, Plant Engineering's Line Crew support was invaluable. John Dowd, Jim Boomer and their whole group worked tirelessly to prepare for temporary power and electrical shutdowns to support the construction effort. John and Jim were the extra set of eyes and hands that were vigilant in testing, checking and correcting the extensive activities that continued for two years. Their support at any hour of the day or night was instrumental in bringing this project to a successful completion.

The final shutdown work that extended to every weekend during the months of August and September, often continuing past midnight, has been stressful but was performed in a great spirit of cooperation. My heartfelt appreciation goes to you all.

I thank my Managers, Gregg Flett and Marty Fallier, for their expert guidance throughout the project, and all the co-workers in E&CS for their help, whenever it was needed.

Att: John Buck, Jr.

Dear Mr. Buck:

This will serve as a letter of reference for work performed by Hinck Electrical Contracting for the Village of Rockville Centre's recently completed substation project.

The project involved the construction of two electric substations: one, a 33kV open air substation that serves as a supply point for the Village's electric system; the other, a 33kV to 4kV distribution substation. The project required concurrent construction of both sites.

Hinck's performance on this project met all expectations. The personnel assigned to this project were qualified to perform the work required during all phases of construction. The level of cooperation between the contractor's personnel and the Village was above average.

I would not hesitate to recommend Hinck Electrical Contracting for work similar to the project at our two substation sites.

Very truly yours,

Instructions for Certification

1. By signing and submitting this proposal, the prospective lower tier participant is providing the certification set out below.
2. The certification in this clause is a material representation of fact upon which reliance was placed when this transaction was entered into. If it is later determined that the prospective lower tier participant knowingly rendered an erroneous certification, in addition to other remedies available to the Federal Government, the department or agency with which this transaction originated may pursue available remedies, including suspension and/or debarment.
3. The prospective lower tier participant shall provide immediate written notice to the person to which this proposal is submitted if at any time the prospective lower tier participant learns that its certification was erroneous when submitted or has become erroneous by reason of changed circumstances.
4. The terms "covered transaction," "debarred," "suspended," "ineligible," "lower tier covered transaction," "participant," "person," "primary covered transaction," "principal," "proposes," and "voluntarily excluded," as used in this clause, have the meanings set out in the Definitions and Coverage sections of rules implementing Executive Order 12549.

A participant may decide the method and frequency by which it determines the eligibility of its principals. Each participant may check the Nonprocurement List.

The knowledge and information of a participant is not required to exceed that which is normally possessed by a prudent person in the ordinary course of business dealings.

Except for transactions authorized under paragraph 5 of these instructions, if a participant in a covered transaction knowingly enters into a lower tier covered transaction with a person who is suspended, debarred, ineligible, or voluntarily excluded from participation in this transaction, in addition to other remedies available to the Federal Government, the department or agency with which this transaction originated may pursue available remedies, including suspension and/or debarment.

Instructions for Certification

1. By signing and submitting this proposal, the prospective lower tier participant is providing the certification set out below.
2. The certification in this clause is a material representation of fact upon which reliance was placed when this transaction was entered into. If it is later determined that the prospective lower tier participant knowingly rendered an erroneous certification, in addition to other remedies available to the Federal Government, the department or agency with which this transaction originated may pursue available remedies, including suspension and/or debarment.
3. The prospective lower tier participant shall provide immediate written notice to the person to which this proposal is submitted if at any time the prospective lower tier participant learns that its certification was erroneous when submitted or has become erroneous by reason of changed circumstances.
4. The terms "covered transaction," "debarred," "suspended," "ineligible," "lower tier covered transaction," "participant," "person," "primary covered transaction," "principal," "proposes," and "voluntarily excluded," as used in this clause, have the meanings set out in the Definitions and Coverage sections of rules implementing Executive Order 12549.

7. A participant in a covered transaction may rely upon a certification of a prospective participant in a lower tier covered transaction that it is not debarred, suspended, ineligible, or voluntarily excluded from the covered transaction, unless it knows that the certification is erroneous. A participant may decide the method and frequency by which it determines the eligibility of its principals. Each participant may check the Nonprocurement List.
8. Nothing contained in the foregoing shall be construed to require establishment of a system of reports in order to render in good faith the certification required by this clause. The knowledge and information of a participant is not required to exceed that which is normally possessed by a prudent person in the ordinary course of business dealings.
9. Except for transactions authorized under paragraph 5 of these instructions, if a participant in a covered transaction knowingly enters into a lower tier covered transaction with a person who is suspended, debarred, ineligible, or voluntarily excluded from participation in this transaction, in addition to other remedies available to the Federal Government, the department or agency with which this transaction originated may pursue available remedies, including suspension and/or debarment.
