SERVICE: Professional Services Sole Source Contract with Wildlife in Need of Rescue and Rehabilitation

It is the intention of the Department to issue a Contract for Professional Services with Wildlife in Need of Rescue and Rehabilitation ("WINORR"), having its principal address at 202 North Wyoming Ave., North Massapequa, NY 11758. The services to be provided by WINORR will consist of specialized care for a variety of animals at Nassau County's Tackapausha Museum and Preserve, including but not limited to performing and monitoring daily care, including feeding/water, assessing condition of the animals and enforcing the required measures for the care of the animals as per the governing agencies, such as the New York State DEC and the USDA. Additionally, WINORR will advise staff in the pursuit of veterinarian care, if necessary, and ensure permits are valid and prepare the required annual reports with outside agencies. The maximum annual amount to be paid to WINORR will be $10,000.00. It is the intent of the Department to enter into an agreement with a term of 3 years.

Nassau County's Tackapausha Museum and Preserve in Seaford, NY has had a decades-long relationship with WINORR. WINORR is a non-profit wildlife rescue organization that is licensed to work with wildlife and migratory birds. Tackapausha is a museum and nature center that is licensed to house non-releasable wildlife for educational purposes, and nature education is their primary mission aside from care of the physical Preserve lands.

A small number of the animals onsite at the museum are owned by the County, but the majority of the larger species are owned by WINORR, and are housed at the Museum where they are cared for and taken to schools and other public programs for nature education.

In the event that the Museum is forced to close or undergo a major renovation or emergency (i.e. hurricane, other unforeseen event) during the term of the contract, the wildlife may be moved and housed at WINORR's location, as Nassau County has no secondary location, as all the species' housing locations require permitting through the state and federal government.

All animals housed at Tackapausha were obtained through rescues that occurred locally, went through the rehabilitation process and were determined to be "non-releasable" due to their injuries. Tackapausha and WINORR then coordinate a housing situation, care plan and education goals for the animal, and the Museum becomes the permanent "home," unless the animal gets sick and needs daily care, in which case it is returned to WINORR after veterinary visits for continued care, or, in the case of an emergency or other event, the wildlife all can return to their site.

The agreement with WINORR provides another level of care and a safety net for the injured wildlife, including owls, eagles, reptiles, mammals, etc. Tackapausha Museum and WINORR are the top level of wildlife care and educational center on Long Island, and WINORR is the only organization fully qualified to work with the Museum, as any other wildlife rehabilitation center in Nassau or Suffolk is below the level of qualifications needed for the reasons given below. Many of the other organizations are home-based rehabs with only basic permits. Historically, this agreement has been a sole source because the other known regional organizations have a skill level that is considered inadequate for the needs of the County. WINORR possess a highly specialized level of skill and permits. Additionally, WINORR facilitates the American Bald Eagle Exhibit at the Museum; WINORR is the only organization with an American Bald Eagle permit and Tackapausha is the only licensed site through the US Department of Fish & Wildlife to house those birds for education in Nassau County. Without WINORR, the Museum would lose the ability to hold the exhibit. Additionally, without WINORR, the Museum would lose the majority of animals housed onsite and would have to be replaced by either a new organization's animals, or County-owned animals. This would be a time-consuming and expensive process to turnover, as wildlife exhibits are specifically maintained to house the particular animals currently at the Museum. If they were removed, the Museum would need to completely redesign and recreate, from a construction standpoint, many of the animal enclosures, costing thousands of dollars and potentially taking years to get back to its current state.

Besides the redesign of the enclosures, there are no other nonprofits on Long Island who could provide the diversity and range of species currently housed, because of WINORR's permits that span birds of prey, mammals, reptiles, native species, etc. Many nonprofits in the region may have a permit for one species, but not for all of the species at the Museum.

A Notice of Intent (PK1021-2033) for this agreement was issued in the Nassau & Suffolk County Editions of Newsday on October 21, 2020 and was posted on the Nassau County solicitation bid board for seven days from October 21, 2020 thru October 28, 2020. No responses or inquiries were received.
