

Nassau County Executive Ed Mangano and North Shore LIJ CEO Michael Dowling will host a workshop to prepare job-seeking veterans for hundreds of open positions within the North Shore-LIJ Health Systems.

The “Barracks to Business: Translating Military Skills Into Career Success Workshop” can help veterans translate the essential and highly sought after military skills set (i.e. leadership, discipline, flexibility, organization, change management etc.) into a language clearly understood by civilian HR recruiting and hiring staffs. The workshop will provide assistance with resume writing, guidance on proven interviewing techniques; and the opportunity to network with recruiters and other Veterans.

Workshop

Thursday, Oct. 8 at 9:30am;

Theodore Roosevelt Executive & Legislative Building.

To RSVP, or to learn more about it, contact Veteran@nshs.edu or call NSLIJ's veteran and military services line at 516-562-3235.