Title VI and additional Nondiscrimination requirements are also applicable to federal programs in addition to programs receiving federal financial assistance due to the Civil Rights Restoration Act of 1987. Title VI covers both intentional acts and facially neutral policies and actions that have an adverse impact based on race, color or national origin.
A household's right to apply and be interviewed for temporary assistance must not be denied, limited or discouraged because of the national origin or citizenship status of a person or persons who reside in that household. Households with members born in another country who may not be citizens must be permitted to provide documentation of citizenship or alien status. Eligibility of household members who are citizens is determined even if there are ineligible aliens in the household.
