

NASSAU COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH
ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH

Environmental Health Inspectors

Sanitarian Trainee Bilingual (Spanish)

The Nassau County Department of Health is seeking college graduates for careers in Environmental Health, which involve inspections of businesses, industries and public facilities to ensure compliance with public health and environmental protection statutes and regulations; and teaching our Food Managers Training course in Spanish.

The positions are through Civil Service and will require an English written examination and oral Spanish examination. After hire, successful completion of a fully paid state training course is required. Upon satisfactory completion of the trainee/probationary service, the trainee advances to Sanitarian I Bilingual.

Minimum Qualifications: Bachelor's Degree including 30 credit hours of course work in physical sciences and/or biological sciences. Ability to comprehend Spanish and speak it fluently. Continuing possession of a valid New York State Driver's License. Must have available for use an operable automobile in order to conduct field assignments.

Salary: Start: $32, 855; after approximately one year $44,555

Benefits: Full range of fringe benefits including: Employer paid health, dental and vision insurance; vacation, sick and personal leave; as well as an excellent pension plan.

Residency: One year of Nassau County residency preferred

For further information, email: DOH.HumanResources@NassauCountyNY.gov
Please attach resume and student transcript to the email

EOE/MFDV

Personnel chosen for merit and fitness without regard to race religion, sex, age, national origin, disability, marital status or any other non-merit factor

