Comment: Election mapping should yield fair and bi-partisan segmentation of our entire population to provide the best candidates to solve our collective issues in Nassau County. Being neither Democrat or Republican allows me to focus on the problem and not the politics. After review of both maps, the Republican proposal (Plan 5) seems considerably over fractured breaking up many traditional communities and regions within the county. Breaking up the 5 towns, Freeport, Hempstead or Lakeview makes no sense to be nor apparently to their community members. Combining Manhasset with New Hyde Park, again makes no sense, the community needs do not match up with the proposed maps. Glen Cove, Glen Head and Points east should always stay together if the population supports it. Who would split Massapequa and Massapequa Park apart if not to steer districts to specific agendas not supported by the community. It doesn't solve the needs of the population nor the fair election laws illustrated during the meeting on January 17th. Please consider the competing proposal and work across the room to make minor adjustments to solve the legal challenges that may occur. As a lifelong county resident and borderline tea party conservative, please do not subject residents to expensive litigation as these types of events have caused in the past. This is the only way to keep our taxes as low as possible and provide the services our residents deserve. Yours Truly, - Bill Pavone
